

CONDITIONAL ALLOWANCE OF A TERM NOTES FOR GUIDANCE 2024-2025

Contact: eamc@admin.cam.ac.uk

Guidance notes for the Conditional Allowance of a Term

Guidance notes for Staff and Students 2024-25

These guidance notes explain the conditional allowance of a term, which can be used by the following students who are required to be resident for a specific number of terms:

- foundation year students
- undergraduate students
- postgraduate students on the following courses:
 - MBA and Executive MBA
 - Master of Accounting (MAcc)
 - Master of Architecture (MArch)
 - Master of Engineering (MEng)
 - Master of Mathematics (MMath)
 - Master of Science (MSci)
- Master of Law (LLM)
- Master of Advanced Study (MASt)
- Masters Degree in Corporate Law (MCL)
- Master of Finance (M.Fin)
- Master of Music (MMus)
- PGCE

These guidance notes are for applications relating to the academic year 2024-25. The guidance notes complement the relevant Ordinances, which can be found online in Chapter
2, Residence and Precincts of the University in Statutes and Ordinances.

Contents

- 1. Criteria for granting conditional allowance of a term
- 2. How to make an application
- 3. The consideration process for conditional allowance of a term applications
- 4. Reviewing conditional allowance of a term decisions
- 5. Questions and further information

1. Criteria for granting conditional allowance of a term

1.1 What is conditional allowance of a term?

For students who have lived outside of Cambridge for more than 20 days in a term (or 17 days in Easter Term) due to illness or grave cause but do not wish to intermit, a 'conditional allowance of a term' must be granted in order for a student to continue on the course.

Where students have lived outside of Cambridge due to intermission, leave to work away (postgraduate students) or a year abroad, permission has already been granted to live outside of Cambridge and no further permission is required.

Where students have lived outside of Cambridge without permission for reasons other than illness or grave cause, students may be withdrawn from their course, as they will be ineligible to sit exams or receive their degree.

1.2 Who can receive conditional allowance of a term?

Students on the following courses can receive conditional allowance of a term as they are required to be resident in Cambridge for a specified number of days each term, and attend for a specified number of terms before being awarded the degree:

- the Foundation Year:
- all Undergraduate courses;
- the following Postgraduate courses: EMBA; LLM; MAcc; MASt; MBA; MCL; MEng; M.Fin; MMath; MMus; MSci; PGCE, MArch.

1.3 Maximum number of terms permitted to be allowed

Students can have up to two terms allowed in total where the attendance requirement for the course is at least six terms (at least two academic years). Where courses have an attendance requirement of fewer than six terms, a maximum of one term may be granted to a student.

1.4 How many days are students required to be resident in Cambridge in a term?

In order to 'keep term', students are required to be resident in Cambridge for not less than three-fourths of every term (resident for at least sixty days in Michaelmas Term, sixty days in Lent Term, and fifty three days in Easter Term). Where a student has not 'kept term', then an application can be made to have that term allowed.

For the academic year 2024-2025 Statutes and Ordinances states the following dates for each term.

- The Michaelmas Term shall begin on 1 October and shall consist of 80 days, ending on 19 December. The Lent Term shall begin on 5 January and shall consist of 80 days, ending on 25 March or in any leap year on 24 March. The Easter Term shall begin on 10 April and shall consist of 70 days ending on 18 June, provided that in any year in which full Easter Term begins on or after 22 April the Easter Term shall begin on 17 April and end on 25 June.
- Full Term shall consist of three-fourths of the whole term, reckoned from the first day of Full Term as hereinafter determined.

In all cases, the application will need to demonstrate that the applicant has been resident as much as practicable during Full Term in the term applied for. If the student commenced residence later than the commencement of Full Term in the term applied for, the reason must be stated in the application. Any application for the allowance of a second term should give the reason, even if this is the same as that originally given.

1.5 What is illness or grave cause?

An allowance of a term can only be granted where a student has not been resident as a result of illness or grave cause.

Illness or grave cause is:

- a) serious;
- b) unanticipated;
- c) entirely beyond the student's control;
- d) close in time to the assessment; and
- e) evidenced by contemporaneous evidence from an independent, appropriately qualified source

1.6 Examples of illness or grave cause

Where the circumstances meet the criteria set out at 1.3 above, the following are a non-exhaustive list of examples that are likely to be accepted:

- short-term illness or injury;
- worsening of an ongoing illness or disability, including mental health conditions;
- symptoms of an infectious disease that could be harmful if passed on to others;
- death or significant illness of a close family member or friend;
- unexpected caring responsibilities for a family member or dependant;
- significant personal or family crises leading to acute stress;
- witnessing or experiencing a traumatic incident;
- a crime which has had a substantial impact on the student;
- accommodation crisis such as eviction or the home becoming uninhabitable;

The following list are examples of circumstances unlikely to be accepted:

- holidays, house moves or other planned or expected events;
- minor illness such as common colds or hay fever;
- poor time management;
- minor transport disruption;

1.7 Evidencing illness or grave cause

As outlined in the criteria in section 1.5, contemporaneous evidence from an independent, appropriately qualified, source must be provided in order to be granted an exam allowance.

Evidence should include the nature, severity and impact of the illness or grave cause; it should state how the condition is likely to have affected the student's examination preparation and / or performance. The evidence should be precise, self-explanatory and where relevant, should offer a clear diagnosis from a medical professional.

Evidence should be obtained as close to the date of the time out of residence as possible, students are expected to make use of College Nurses, Tutors and welfare staff, in addition to GP services. Evidence obtained after the impact of the illness or grave cause that states the student 'reported' they were impacted by illness or grave cause is unlikely to be sufficient. Where an existing or long-term condition is relevant to the circumstances, pre-existing evidence can be used to confirm the condition, alongside contemporaneous evidence documenting the circumstances affecting the relevant assessments.

Where a student is aware of a long-term condition that affects their day-to-day activities, it is their responsibility to seek reasonable adjustments. Only unanticipated worsening or changing of the condition shall be considered to meet the illness or grave cause criteria and this will need to be sufficiently evidenced.

Evidence is treated sensitively and confidentially and is only seen by decision-makers and those staff administering the decision-making processes. Consequently, redacted medical evidence is not accepted.

Evidence must be from an independent source, not family or friends, and the author must be sufficiently qualified to provide the relevant evidence e.g. a doctor is qualified to diagnose illnesses, a nurse is qualified to report medical symptoms, an accredited counsellor is qualified to confirm the engagement they have had with a student; the ADRC (Accessibility and Disability Resource Centre) can provide screening assessments or evidence of engagements regarding a student's disability. Where a student's referral to a specialist medical advisor has been delayed for reasons outside the student's control, this should be made clear.

Evidence must be in English or include an official translation from a third party (not generated or translated by AI).

2 How to make an application

2.1 General information

Applications for conditional allowance of a term are submitted by email to EAMC@admin.cam.ac.uk by a College on the student's behalf (via Tutor or wellbeing advisor).

The application must be complete at the time of submission and the email must include all of the following:

- a completed and signed application form;
- a statement(s) from the College and/or student;
- a completed student declaration form;
- evidence of the medical circumstances or other grave cause;
- the full student support document (SSD), where appropriate, to include the disability information and document sections

Exceptionally, where the sender has become aware of an error in the submission of an application before the application has been considered, the application must be re-submitted in full, with an explanation for the re-submission. The date of re-submission will be used in determining at which meeting the application will be considered.

Students can expect an application to be considered at the meeting following the meeting deadline, with an outcome being sent within ten working days of the meeting date. Details of meetings and submission deadlines can be found here.

2.2 College and student statements

Where an application is made from a College on the student's behalf, it is expected that the student's Senior Tutor or Tutor shall provide a statement. The College may wish to draw attention to any matters which it would like to be taken into consideration. There may be instances in which an additional statement by a DoS is helpful. The Committee pays close attention to the care with which College statements are prepared.

Students may also wish to provide a brief statement outlining the impact of the illness or grave cause. Any statement should be concise, factual and linked to the relevant criteria.

Depending on the case, it may be necessary to apply for an exam allowance of 'Allowed to Progress' or 'Reconsideration of original result' alongside a period of disregarding terms. Full details on disregarding terms can be found in separate guidance notes available here.

3. The consideration process for conditional allowance of a term applications

3.1 The Examination Access and Mitigation Committee

The Examination Access and Mitigation Committee (EAMC) is a committee of the General Board, which meets monthly throughout the year to consider applications for examination allowances and related matters. Its membership includes representatives from across the Collegiate membership and medically qualified members. There is also a large volume of student casework undertaken under delegated authority, much of which involves the expert opinion of its medically qualified members.

The EAMC may only consider cases and make decisions within the bounds of the authority granted within Statutes & Ordinance and in accordance with this guidance. Applications that fall outside these parameters shall be declined.

The EAMC has the following overarching aims:

- To grant relief where students would otherwise be substantively disadvantaged by illness or grave cause in relation to their assessments;
- to endeavour to ensure parity of treatment between applicants to the Committee who share similar circumstances, while recognising that each case is individual;
- to be mindful of the interests of students undertaking the same course but who are not applicants to the Committee.

All correspondence relating to conditional allowances of a term must take place using EAMC@admin.cam.ac.uk. There must be no attempt to correspond with individual EAMC members regarding the details of applications.

3.2 General overview

The EAMC receives copies of applications seven days prior to a meeting. In considering the application, the EAMC shall consider the application presented, any additional information received from the Department, Faculty or relevant University office, and any previous applications that have been made to the EAMC.

3.3 Matters dealt with by delegated authority

Some matters may be dealt with by authority delegated to the Chair and/or Secretary. Typically, this includes straightforward applications to resume study or disregard terms (colloquially known as intermission).

In very exceptional circumstances i.e. where a decision cannot reasonably wait until the next scheduled meeting of the Committee and where the case is not straightforward, the Committee may be prepared to consider an application by circulation. If, however, in such circumstances any member of the Committee wishes the application to be considered at a scheduled meeting, then the application will need to await that meeting.

3.4 Outcomes

Communication of outcome

Following the EAMC decision, the College will receive an outcome letter. It is the College's responsibility to communicate the outcome to the student as soon as possible. The student should be provided with a copy of the decision letter.

Approved applications

If the application is approved before the end of Full Term in the term in question, the approval is conditional only, and is not ratified unless the Tutor subsequently certifies below that their pupil resided continuously, from the last day of residence originally certified, to the end of Full Term.

4. Reviewing conditional allowance of a term decisions

Where a student is dissatisfied with the decision in relation to the conditional allowance of a term, a review can be submitted within 14 days of receiving the decision in line with the Procedure for the Review of Decisions of University Bodies.

Requests for review can only be made on set grounds: procedural irregularities; new evidence that for good reason could not be submitted with the original application; or a belief that the decision is wholly unreasonable. If the student remains dissatisfied following the review outcome, the student may take their case to the Office of the Independent Adjudicator.

5. Questions and further information

Any queries regarding conditional allowance of a term should be directed to eamc@admin.cam.ac.uk.